PROPOSAL OF PREMIER VOID MAY AVERS

City Can't Take Advantage Of Ultra Vires Legislation, Says Fry

The city cannot take advantage of legislation that is known to be ultra vires, Mayor John W. Fry said Saturday in commenting on Premier Aberhart's announcement that he intended to proclaim an 18-month-old act of the legislature limiting the amount of interest payable on municipal bonded debts to three per cent.

"The province previously tried to limit the interest rate on provincial and provincially-guaranteed debts and the legislation was ruled ultra vires in the courts," Mayor Fry said. "It is obvious, then, that the province cannot delegate to a minor administration power which it does not possess."

The city some time ago made a proposal to the provincial government that it pay no more than three per cent on the province on $100,000 of city bonds held by the province, Mayor Fry said. This suggestion was made on the ground that the province was willing to pay only half the coupon rate with a limit there on provincial bonds held by the city.

"Our negotiations on this point were carried on for some time, but were discontinued when a high

CANCELLATION OF DEBTS NOW UNDER REVIEW

Proposal Of Alberta To Write Off Advances Reaches Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—The Dominion government has under consideration a proposal from the Alberta government that advances made to Alberta farmers between 1917 and 1922 to enable them to buy seed grain, and provided on a 50-50 basis by the two governments, be written off.

A statement has been prepared by the lands branch of the mines and resources department showing that advances aggregate $753,000.

From its own treasury Alberta advanced an additional $3,812,319 and Premier Aberhart announced yesterday that steps have been taken to exempt the advances when he has proposed to the Dominion that the $753,000 be likewise written off.

Provision was made some time ago to scale down the debt. Any farmer who had received advances might apply to boards set up for the purpose and if he convinced the board of the merits of his petition, the board could so report and the debt would be reduced. However, to wipe out the debt entirely would require action by the cabinet.

Accordingly, on receiving the letter from the Alberta government, the finance department asked for a report which likely will come before cabinet soon.

Premier Claims Solution Of High Taxes Lies Alone In Curbing Of Outrageous Interest Charges

Calgary's Request to Reduce Interest One-Half Said to be Discriminatory — Government Fights to Cut Ruinous Rates

Striking out at the money barons and financial powers which have persisted in maintaining high interest rates, despite the evident inability of the people to pay, Premier William Aberhart on Saturday declared that while he held that a cut in interest rates was very necessary, the city of Calgary's request to cut interest rates one-half of the contract rate, limited to the city's bonds held by the provincial government, "is entirely discriminatory and unwarranted because of the fact that no action was taken to reduce interest rate on the bonds when ample opportunity was given about 18 months ago."

Calgary Dispatch Stirs Premier

The premier's comment was made when shown a despatch from Calgary in which it was stated that trustees of the Calgary sinking fund would seek from the Calgary city council, permission to reduce by one-half, the contracted rate on Calgary bonds held by the provincial government. It is reported that the province holds $743,393 of Calgary bonds.

Commenting on this action by the Calgary sinking fund trustees, Premier Aberhart declared that "My government has been fighting to cut the ruinous interest rates now being paid by the cities in Alberta and particularly Calgary and Edmonton."

"We passed an act, limiting interest rates on their bonded indebtedness to three per cent, which we consider a fair rate of return. We received no co-operation from the Calgary and Edmonton city officials, nor did the trustees offer any suggestions at that time. As they did not request that the act be proclaimed and made operative at that time, they have no justification for coming forward now with any such suggestion, especially of a discriminatory nature."

"The Alberta government tried every method possible to induce the financial interests to reduce the interest rates on Alberta bonds, but our representations were rejected and we made no progress."

Compelled To Cut Interest

"We were compelled to cut the interest rates on the outstanding Province of Alberta bonds to a rate of approximately two and one-half per cent in the interest of the people of Alberta as a whole."

"The government of Alberta would consider the proclamation of the act limiting payments to three per cent on the outstanding indebtedness on Calgary and Edmonton, as and when the elected representatives of these two cities petition the government to do so."

"It was not expedient to proclaim the act when the

China Oil Fields Lure Japan's Army Forward: Kai-Shek Plans Trap

TOKYO, Oct. 29.—The newspaper Nichi Nichi today hinted that Shensi province, which has rich oil resources that could keep Japan adequately supplied for the next 300 years, will become an early objective of the Japanese army pushing further westward into China. Several Japanese columns are garrisoned on the northern and eastern banks of the Yellow river, close to the Shensi provincial border.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29.—From somewhere in the vast interior of China, beyond the lines of Japanese occupation, General Chiang Kai-Shek today proclaimed the continued Chinese resistance and expressed hope of "winning" the oil fields of Western China.

The general's message, emanating from Chungking, the Nationalist capital now at Hankow, was addressed to the National People's political assembly in session at Chungking.

British United Press, Exclusive Cable to the Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, Oct. 29.—Appointment of the Duke of Kent as Governor-General of Australia will give that Dominion a three-year view of Europe's best-dressed royal couple.

The Duchess of Kent, who has the fashion page in royal circles since her marriage and is credited with bringing about a general improvement in the dress of Britain's royalty.

Suggestion in America that the Duchess' stylishness and beauty might have caused jealousy which led to the couple's "exile" to Australia were contradicted by court circles, which consider the Kents to be especially close to King George and Queen Elizabeth.

They frequently play bridge together or make up a foursome at the theatre or at dinner. In general, the Duke and Duchess are with their Majesties privately and publicly more often than almost any other members of the royal family.

OTTAWA URGED TO CURB WAVE OF DISCONTENT

"Assuming Serious Propositions," U.F.A. Asserts In Appeal

CALGARY, Oct. 29.—Appeal to Prime Minister Mackenzie King warning the Dominion government should take steps to allay the discontent which is "assuming serious proportions" in Western Canada was made by the United Farmers of Alberta today.

A letter, addressed by the executive and signed by Robert Gair, president of the U.F.A., was sent to the Prime Minister at Ottawa.

"It is our conviction," said Mr. Gair, "that the Dominion government should take steps to allay the discontent which is 'assuming serious proportions' in Western Canada."

The letter emphasizes that there is immediate need for revision of the national policy in order to meet extraordinary conditions which have developed since the first war and adversely affected farm people.

"The time has come when the government is commended, but the letter asks that it be taken into consideration."

"We would point out that the Dominion government is commended for its policy in the past, but it is now in a position to take steps to allay the discontent which is 'assuming serious proportions' in Western Canada."

GOVERNMENT'S FOREIGN PLAN IS ATTACKED

Powers Say Anglo-Italian Treaty Signed November 15

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Labor party came out definitely last night for ministries of defence and supply in a pre-arranged manifesto which assailed the government's foreign and domestic policies.

With parliament due to meet Tuesday to wind up the business of the present session, the opposition and government whips have agreed on agenda. Tuesday will be devoted to discussion of the economic and diplomatic aftermath of the Munich agreement.

Spain's Chance
Wednesday will be given over to Spain, Thursday to defence, and Friday to preparation.

The government is expected to announce during the Spanish debate the date when the Anglo-Italian treaty will become operative, probably Nov. 15.

The party manifesto accused the government of reducing the League of Nations to a pre-arranged show, of shattering collective security, and of bringing the country to the brink of war.

Dominant Europe
By its action the government had placed Germany in a position to dominate Europe from the North Sea to the Mediterranean.

Great Britain's standing in the world had been damaged gravely, the manifesto continued, by the failure of the League of Nations, by the military dictatorship in Spain, by the military dictatorship in Italy, by the military dictatorship in Germany, by the military dictatorship in France, by the military dictatorship in the Balkans, by the military dictatorship in the Near East, by the military dictatorship in the Far East.

War was averted not by Prime Minister Chamberlain, the document asserted, but by Edward Bene, who was appointed British ambassador in Berlin, the other four to the Generals.

SHIPPING U.S. AIRPLANES TO SPAIN PROBED

40 American Machines Illegally Sent To Loyalist Forces

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The Canadian government and United States federal agents are investigating the illegal shipping of about 40 American airplanes to Loyalist Spain.

United States department of state officials last night said the shipment had been made despite the neutrality law which forbids sending war material to Spain. It said this was accomplished by use of what it called "front" companies.

TURKEY DESTINATION
The aircraft were among 50 Grumman planes which were ordered from a Canadian company by a Paris agent of the Spanish government, the department said, explaining that the agent presented with the order document to show Turkey was the destination of the shipment.

Exact licenses for the planes were revoked when the department learned their true destination was Spain, but the order already had been sent. The planes were to be shipped to Turkey, the department said.

East Canada Has Reaped More Than West—J.G. Gardiner

Minister of Agriculture Quotes Figures to Prove His Assertion East Greatest Benefactor

SASKATOON, Oct. 19.—The agricultural industry of eastern Canada has received more benefits from the Dominion government during the last 10 years than has western agriculture, Hon. J. G. Gardiner declared in a service club address here last night.

Quoting figures liberally, the minister stated the bulk of Canada's grain crops were grown in western Canada but that more than half the livestock industry was centred in the east. The amount of money spent for maintenance of the wheat industry had been "trivial" compared to that expended on livestock.

And of $30,000,000 spent on livestock, $27,500,000 had gone to eastern Canada, he added. These figures, Mr. Gardiner said, did not include an additional $27,500,000 spent mainly in western Canada during the last two years to meet the cost of feeding, marketing and transportation of livestock during a period of national calamity.

SPECIALIZED GRAIN
After detailing the percentages of grain grown in the west and east, he added: "It is evident Canada specializes in grain, but the west and livestock in the east."

Grain-growing brought more business to the transportation and building industries of Canada than any other branch of agriculture, the minister continued, and these industries kept a constant check on the wheat industry.

The transportation industry was a good example, Mr. Gardiner said. Other industries in 1937 showed an index figure of more than 100 based upon the year 1913 as normal, but the transportation index was only 84.

During the years $30,000,000 was spent on the livestock industry, grain had "carried themselves" for the most part, he said. A limited amount had been spent in fighting pests and rust, but not nearly so much as had been spent on livestock diseases, notably tuberculosis in cattle.

Government grading and inspection services had been paid for by the farmers by way of fees for them, Mr. Gardiner stated.

FAMILIES ARE STILL FLEEING FOREST FIRES

Wind Fans Bush Blazes To Raging Seas Of Flame In Rochfort Area

ROCHFORD BRIDGE, Oct. 19.—Families continued to evacuate their homes in the Mystery Lake area today, with the fire taking with all its possible belongings as Friday's wind-driven forest fires to raging seas of flame.

Several homes and buildings were reported destroyed, while the damage to feed stacks has not as yet been estimated. At night, for many future, flames could be seen leaping into the sky.

NEW HOMES
In the timber limits about twenty miles north of here, the fire continued its ceaseless sweep, particularly unchecked despite the efforts of volunteers to halt it. Luckily homes are scarce in this part, so the damage in this regard is not as serious as further north. Feed stacks, however, were also destroyed.

On the Rochfort flats north-west of here, still fires continued their spread in the peaty meadows, despite the numerous fires being ploughed by tractors. In most instances, it was relatively recent, the fire spread underneath the ploughed surface, burning holes in the deep and practically ruining the rich meadow lands.

Farms owned by L. Crockett and J. Smith were reported to be damaged particularly, while hundreds of acres of private property has also been ruined.

To make matters worse, a new fire was reported to have started in the south-west of here, but as yet no authentic reports have been received as to the amount of damage being done.

Danger Less In Slave Lake Area
FAUST, Oct. 19.—The strong west wind of Wednesday and Thursday has not increased the activity in the Slave Lake area as was first feared. Smouldering ground fires, however, no damage have been reported for some time. Though the smoke is still heavy it is believed the fire danger is lessening. Blazes were checked by light rain recently.

Officials State Situation Same
Forestry branch officials on Saturday said that the general fire situation was unchanged from Friday.

Fires are burning in the Flatbush, Chisholm and Smith areas as well as in the other areas. The fire situation is still very serious.

No additional outbreaks were reported on Saturday and ranchers maintaining their action against all outbreaks.

HERRIOT WARNS FRANCE FACES AUSTRIA'S FATE

Liberties Of Press and Free Speech Must Be Maintained

MARSEILLE, France, Oct. 19.—The French Republic will go the way of Austria, Czechoslovakia, Spain and China unless it firmly defends the democratic liberties of the press, of speech, and of religion, Edward Herriot, president of the chamber of deputies, declared in a speech at the annual free press conference here today.

Herriot indirectly warned Premier Raymond Daladier not to drive a wedge between the workers and other classes in France, declaring that the democratic liberties of the press, of speech, and of religion, were the basis of the French Republic.

After Herriot's impassioned speech the conference passed a resolution of confidence in the foreign policy of the Daladier government. French minister Georges Bonnet earlier had reaffirmed the validity of the Franco-French mutual assistance pact.

Guardian Angel

No guardian angel ever did a better job of looking after the safety of anybody than little Chloe Wright, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright, of Rimby, who looks after her three-year-old brother Stanton. In the past two and a half years she has saved his life twice.

Chloe is pictured above on the left, Stanton on the right. Their brother, Harold, aged six months, is in the tub in the centre. Early this week the two children had been playing around the water-trough when the little fellow fell in. Chloe grabbed his collar, and yelled to her mother for help. When the mother arrived she found her daughter bravely holding the little boy's head above the water.

Two and a half years ago the two children were playing in the kitchen of their home. Stanton was in a high chair. Reaching out he pulled the cloth on the table and upset a lighted kerosene lamp on to the tray of his high-chair.

Chloe's cry of "Blow the fire out madder, blow the fire out" brought her parent rushing into the kitchen from the milk-house outside. Although severely burned, little Stanton recovered.

Four stallions of outstanding character had been purchased outright by the society, he stated. They were Wil Somers, stationed at Jack Leves's farm; Campbells, at Jack Leves's farm; Campbells, at Jack Leves's farm; and Mr. Kay at Sedgewick.

Get of Will Somers this year had been singularly successful on the race tracks, many colts and fillies won on the western circuit for Edmonton owners, Mr. Abbott stated.

High Tax Solution Lies Reducing Interest Rate Says Alberta Premier

elected representatives in Calgary and Edmonton refused to co-operate.

"The idea of allowing either Calgary or Edmonton to discriminate and reduce the interest only on their bonds held by the provincial government is not only unfair and unjust but is plainly detrimental to the people of Alberta, for these bonds belong to them as a whole. It would seem that the sinking fund trustees of the debtors of this province that foreign bondholders to receive full interest rates of four and one-half, five, six and seven per cent, thus sending all this money out of the province, while they refuse to pay to the Alberta bondholders the regular rate agreed in the Fortin plan.

"At this time I would like to draw the attention of the people of Alberta to the fact that the Alberta government has done more to protect the debtors of this province than any other government in western Canada.

"We would welcome the co-operation of the public officials in Calgary and Edmonton to relieve the taxpayers in both cities by reducing the outrageous interest rates they are now paying on their public debt, but so far we have not received the co-operation we expected from these officials.

Worry About Tax Rates

"At the same time, Calgary and Edmonton city officials are worrying again about the tax rates. Members of both councils fell for the clever propaganda of the eastern bondholders and their local lobbyists about a year ago.

"Instead of fighting for lower interest rates, as they pledged themselves to do, they accepted the Fortin scheme to spread the bonded debt over a period of 30 years, without receiving one cent reduction in the ruinous interest rates being paid, of four and one-half, five, six and seven per cent.

"Millions of dollars were made for the Bondholders' Association and the cities of Edmonton and Calgary actually paid for putting the scheme across.

Neers Confiscation

"When a city tax rate reaches 54 mills it is nothing short of confiscation. No reduction in taxes can be looked for in the future until a general reduction in the present ruinous interest rates on their bonds is effected.

"Ontario cities, accepting the assistance of the provincial government, compelled bondholders to be satisfied with as low as one and one-half per cent and up to four per cent interest.

"The Alberta government passed an act, limiting interest rates to three per cent on the outstanding bonded debts of Edmonton and Calgary, but the city officials of both cities refused to have the act proclaimed for the benefit of the taxpayers and in Calgary the citizens voted against the reduction. It would seem to me that if the citizens of Edmonton and Calgary favor any act, it would be a general reduction of the interest on all bonds and not a discrimination against their own provincial government.

"I have consistently maintained that compulsion should only be used as a last resort, but it would appear that no city in western Canada can hope to get relief from ruinous interest rates without it."

Alberta Wheat Pool Completes 15 Years of Marketing Service Today

HENRY WOOD CREATOR OF NEW SYSTEM

Idea Of Carstairs Farmer
Blossoms For Welfare
Of Prairie Growers

CALGARY, Oct. 25.—In the autumn of the Henry Wood, the author of the Wheat Pool, who for three decades championed the cause of the Alberta farmer, has a fond memory today of the memory of an agrarian association founded as the first of its kind in Canada.

It is the Alberta Wheat Pool today 15 years old—a memorable date in the mind of Alberta's grain old men of agriculture.

Henry Wood was his first president, a post he held for years, an energetic marketing agency for thousands of Alberta farmers the wheat pool started operations Oct. 26, 1920.

NOT COMPULSORY

No longer a compulsory organization in the days of its infancy when 25,000 farmer-members by virtue of contract were signed to market all their grain with the pool, the co-operative today operates 400 country elevators and large terminal houses at the port of Vancouver.

Any farmer can market with the pool now and this year from Alberta's great wheat crop of 100,000,000 bushels, millions of bushels have relied into pool elevators for transportation to the Pacific Coast.

From his farm home at Carstairs, Mr. Wood, who is 71 years old, withdrew in retirement from the marketing agency. On his retirement from the board of directors last year, he was made honor president and an annual life honorarium awarded him for his services.

HUTCHINSON AT HELM

Today Lew Hutchinson, a member of the first executive in 1922, is the head man of the pool headquarters in Calgary. He is chairman of the board and was born in R. D. Purdy, first general manager, who came from Edmonton 15 years ago to open the headquarters office here.

Success—No Pull

The cynics will tell you that you can't get anywhere without "pull." But the New Amsterdam is shown here as he succeeded in berthing himself at Hoboken without the aid of the customary jugs. A tow boat strike tied up the harbor-shipping and the New Amsterdam had to wait for a dock. A big crowd on the dock enjoyed the free show of the liner docking without the puffing and pooping jugs.

Major and Minor Notes

By JOHN OLIVER
Although the Alberta Music Festival of 1938 is still a long way off—or seems to be as it does not get under way until May 8—yet, preparations already are under way for this event. Arrangements also are well under way for the holding of the Edmonton and District Music Festival, also to be held in May. The syllabus for the provincial event has been prepared and decisions will be ready for distribution at an early date. Some additions will be made to the provincial music festival syllabus for 1939, while some existing classes will be sub-divided.

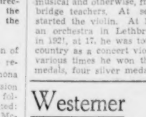

An unencumbered operatic ensemble class is also in the making. This will consist of not less than three or more than six voices, with the first prize to be an extract from any Gilbert and Sullivan opera, including spoken or musical passages leading to it, to be performed with stage action, in ordinary outfit and with piano accompaniment. A key piano class for competitors under 16 years also is in the making.

The band classes will be sub-divided into an open class and a junior, the latter to be for competitors under 17 years. A harp class also is to be added. Those and other matters will be dealt with in the syllabus. With the additional classes and anticipated large entry list a third adjudication may be required.

Rehearsals are progressing favourably for the production in November, by the Edmonton Civic Operatic Society, of Finlay's opera "Martha," which will provide a ray diversion from the tragedy of grand opera. The score is studied with spirit and song, pretty dances, lovely costumes in a setting depicting some of loveliest England. The plot of the opera deals with the complicated situation of two noble ladies, tired of court life, who seek amusement

GEORGEY WADDINGTON

It was decided that the program this season would consist of the inspirations and emotions expressed in compositions of the great piano composer and study of some of the well known symphonies. Miss McVay played two piano solos, Chopin's Fantasy Impromptu and Liszt's Eighth Hungarian Rhapsody. In addition to these mentioned, the meeting was attended by Mrs. Thomas Ridwood, Anita Leslie, Jean Watt, Mrs. James McVay, Eva Salts, Joyce Finlay, Sarah Stenhouse, Dorothy Richards, Ruth Lavalee and Myrtle Colard.

Alberta music lovers will be pleased to hear that Geoffrey Waddington, formerly of Lethbridge and winner of the 1937 contest, has returned to the west and has located in Winnipeg, where he hopes to continue his pursuit of music and his affiliations with the CBC. Already he is directing his own program from the "Peg

At Toronto he was identified with radio work for 12 years and was a member of the Toronto Conservatory of Music faculty, an organizer and director of the Toronto Chamber Music Society, a frequent violin recitalist and a member of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra when it was conducted by Lefei von Kunze.

Avonir Nissit, well known Edmonton pianist, is planning a recital of his own compositions at the Masonic Temple on Nov. 15. He has now reached upon 50 and this work, a set of 24 variations on a theme in A Minor, will be included.

Jeanette Forsyth of Calgary is the author of the words of a song which has just come to hand, entitled "The Emblem of Alberta." The music is by Gilbert Stirling and the work is published by the Prior Book, Ltd., company of Shaftesbury avenue, London. There are two verses and chorus to the song, which deals with the rose as the emblem of the province. The lyric is neatly written and the music provides an adequate background. It is hoped that the writer of the song will find a wide appreciation of her work as the beauties of Alberta provide a splendid background of inspira-

Musical circles are anticipating with interest the recital to be given at the Empire theatre on Friday, Nov. 18, by P. Knight MacGregor, baritone, formerly of this city. ## Little Orphan Annie

FOUR WEEKS HAVE ROLLED BY LISTLESSLY SINCE OUR DEAR FRIEND, URIAH GUDGE, PUT ON TOTAL OBSCURITY, OR WHAT-EVER HE DID TO DISAPPEAR—ALREADY HE IS LITTLE MORE THAN A MEMORY TO MOST—WHERE DID HE GO? WHY? HOW? APPARENTLY NOBODY KNOWS AND AFTER ONE MONTH, NOBODY SEEMS TO CARE—SH-H-H—

MIDNIGHT—LITTLE ANNIE, BLESS HER HEART, SLEEPING AS ONLY THOSE WITH THE CLEAR CONSCIENCE OF A CHILD CAN SLEEP—BRAVE, LOYAL LITTLE SOUL—I HOPE SHE'LL NOT THINK TOO ILL OF ME—GOOD-BYE, MY CHILD—

AND JACK—DREAMING OF SUCCESS AHEAD—AND LOVE AND A HOME—AND ROSE—DREAMING THE SAME DREAM—SOON TO LIVE THAT DREAM—AND MRS. ALDEN—DREAMING OF THE PAST—OF HER CALEB—

HA! YOU, SANDY! DON'T YOU DREAM? NOT TONIGHT, EH? COME TO TELL THE OLD ONE-LEGGED WANDERER GOOD-BYE—THE WISDOM AND UNDERSTANDING WE SURPRISE IN THE EYES OF A DOG—GOOD-BYE, FRIEND—

THROUGH THE OLD ORCHARD, NOW—THE DARK AND BLOODY GROUND—WHERE GHOSTS STROLL ON MOON-LIT NIGHTS, IF SUCH THINGS BE—A DARK AND SINISTER PLACE OF SHADOWS—

ACROSS THE OLD ROAD, OVER THE LITTLE BRIDGE AND UP THE HILL—THE HILL BEHIND THE TOWN—

SHANGHAI REPORTING, CAPTAIN OLD SHANGHAI, NOW, AND MINUS ONE LEG—BUT STILL ABLE SEAMAN—AS YOUR FIRST MATE I TOOK COMMAND WHEN YOU WENT BELOW, CAPTAIN—

MAYBE I DID RIGHT, AND MAYBE WRONG, BUT I DID WHAT I JUDGED JUST AND PROPER, CAPTAIN—I HOPE YOU'LL REST BETTER KNOWING THAT—I KNOW I WILL—SO LONG, CAPTAIN—NOW I'LL BE SHOVIN' OFF—

SURE, IT'S AN ANONYMOUS LETTER—BUT GREAT BULLFROGS, DON'T YOU SEE? IT MUST EXPLAIN EVERYTHING!

"LOOK IN THE BOTTOM OF THE OLD WELL, IT SAYS—SURE—SHANGHAI FILLED THAT WELL—AFTER GUDGE DISAPPEARED—

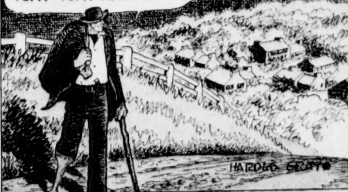

I HATE TO DO THIS, BUT COME ON, BOYS—WE'VE GOT TO GRAB SHANGHAI—

WE SHOULD HAVE GUESSED—SHANGHAI AS MUCH AS HINTED AT IT DOZENS O' TIMES—

IT'S GOIN' TO BE AN AWFUL TOUGH JOB TO DIG OUT THAT WELL—

AH—LIGHTS MOVING AROUND THE OLD HOUSE—MY FRIENDS, THE SHERIFF AND THE CHIEF—HA! HA! I WONDER IF BY CHANCE THEY RECEIVED AN ANONYMOUS LETTER—TCH! TCH! AH, ME—

I'D LIKE TO STAY, BUT THE SCHOONER SAILS WITH THE TIDE—AND TIME AND TIDE WAIT FOR NO MAN—I'VE HEARD—I MUST GO DOWN TO THE SEAS AGAIN—TO THE VAGRANT GYPSY LIFE TO THE GULL'S WAY AND THE WHALE'S WAY WHERE THE WIND'S LIKE A WHETTED KNIFE—

Maw Green

WHAT'S ALIV' YE, LUCKY?

OW-W—IT'S ME STUMMICK! TH' MORE MEDICINE I TAKE TH' WORSE IT HOITS—

IT'S WORRY—THAT'S WHAT IT IS—YE SHOULD STOP WORRYIN'—

HA! WITH IVERY BET I'VE MADE FER TWO WEEKS GOIN' SOUR? I'M FAIR CRAZY—

GAMBLIN' 'TIS HARD ON TH' NERVOUS SYSTEM—WHAT DOES YER DOCTOR SAY?

DOCTOR? PHOOIE! I'VE GOT NO FAITH IN THEM BOIDS!

I'M A GAMBLER—SURE—AND NOW AND THEN I GO FER A LONG SHOT—I'LL TAKE A LOP-SIDED CHANCE WITH ME ROLL, BUT NOT WITH ME HEALTH, SEE?

THERE—LOOK—READ THAT—DOCTOR JONES—II TO I—AND I SHOULD WAGER ME LIFE AGAINST SUCH ODDS? I AIN'T THAT CRAZY YET—

ERMINES IS ONLY THE WINTER COAT OF A WEASEL.

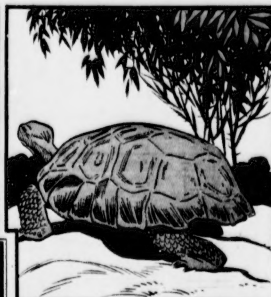

WHEN THE BOBOLINK CHANGES TO HIS AUTUMN PLUMAGE, HIS NAME ALSO IS CHANGED ... TO REED BIRD.
